

SECOND ANNUAL CONFERENCE ON COMPETITION ENFORCEMENT IN THE RECENTLY ACCEDED MEMBER STATES

23 April 2010 - Brno

Countries that recently acceded to the European Union have long history with competition law. Most of these countries also represent smaller, open market economies, which have faced a rapid privatisation process. Czech Republic, Poland and Hungary have also endured several common historical events that make them face similar market situations and problems including inter alia excessive pricing, bid rigging, refusal to access as well as issues related to the current financial crisis.

About Brno

“Despite having a population of less than 400, 000, Brno behaves like the cosmopolitan capital it is (ie of Moravia), and stately boulevards and parks give it an almost Parisian air. This vaguely Gallic ambience is further enhanced by a population with contagious enthusiasm for caffeine, chat and culture, which they energetically bring to life in the city’s cafés and bars.” - Lonelyplanet.com
